WHAT TO DO IN BRAGA

This itinerary is designed to visit Braga in one to three days, depending on the time you have available to enjoy and optimize your experience as a visitor or tourist.

If you only have one day to explore Braga, you will get an overview of what most characterizes our city by following the suggestions for the first day. You will feel our essence and passion, with all the vibrancy and the accent so characteristic of a northern city.

In two days you can expand your experience on a historical journey up to the present day. After all, Braga is a two-thousand-year-old city. Founded in 16 BC by the Romans, here you will find ruins and contemporary buildings coexisting in harmonious harmony.

And if you have three days, you will extend your journey to other monumental and cultural spaces just as eclectic, from baroque churches to twentieth-century architectural spaces or those adapted to modernity.

The best thing is to spend more days so as not to miss the most diverse places for enjoyment and leisure. Among green parks, river beaches, galleries, and event spaces, there is a whole cultural array to discover and enjoy.

Braga manages to preserve tradition by combining it with innovation, which gives the city an entrepreneurial, dynamic, and youthful character.

With its doors open to the world, without forgetting its strong cultural and heritage legacy... Braga sounds like the future.

FIRST DAY

01 Arco da Porta Nova

Built by D. Diogo de Sousa in 1512 and remodeled by D. Gaspar de Bragança in 1772, the Arco da Porta Nova is the "ex-libris" of Braga, where in the past the keys to the city were symbolically handed over.

Together with the Tower of Santiago, the Arco da Porta Nova is one of the eight gates of the medieval wall that are still preserved. Next to this gate there was a square with a fish market, one of the many squares opened by order of D. Diogo de Sousa, an archbishop inspired by the Renaissance ideas he came into contact with during his travels to Rome.

Because it never had a door, the Arch became one of the symbols of our openness and hospitality, never closing the door to the world. When someone leaves the door open, the expression "You are from Braga" is used.

Arco da Porta Nova

Braga Cathedral

02 CATHEDRAL

🕒 Estimated visit time: 2h00

When we say that something is older than Braga Cathedral, we mean something very old. In fact, the foundation of our Cathedral predates the nationality of Portugal as a country, which did not yet exist. Construction began at the end of the 11th century and it was consecrated and dedicated to the Virgin Mary in 1089 by Archbishop Pedro. Pedro. This is where D. Teresa of León and D. Henrique of Burgundy, the parents of D. Afonso Henriques, the first king of Portugal.

The architectural ensemble of Braga Cathedral combines different artistic styles, the result of various interventions commissioned by its Archbishops. Little remains of the Romanesque style, apart from its structure. From the Baroque period, the High Choir and the organs stand out, a monumental ensemble in the style of King João V, known as the Portuguese Sun King.

The Cathedral also houses four chapels, accessible through the cloister, and the Treasure-Museum, which brings together a vast and rich collection, taking us on a journey through the secular history of the Church of Braga and recalling the life of Jesus Christ.

"Braga Cathedral is a monument with a past that is lost in the distance of the centuries: a past full of remarkable artistic, historical, and liturgical richness." (Braga Cathedral)

03 BRAGA CITY HALL MUNICIPAL SQUARE

The current Braga City Hall, which replaced the previous Renaissance building, was built between 1753 and 1756. It was designed by André Soares and is considered one of the most notable examples of Baroque architecture in the Iberian Peninsula.

On the symmetrical façade, you can see the decoration of the windows, inspired by the mitres of the archbishops. In the center there is a niche with the image of Our Lady of Livramento, which belonged to the old Paços do Concelho building.

04 BRAGA PUBLIC LIBRARY ARCHIEPISCOPAL PALACE

The Archbishop's Palace is one of the city's most emblematic buildings, not so much for its grandeur and size, but because it was the residence of the Archbishops, owners and Lords of Braga. Designed in the 18th century in Baroque style, this building was the victim of a major fire and was later rebuilt in the 1930s, respecting the original style.

06 RUA DO SOUTO

The most traditional shopping street in Braga. It was inaugurated in 1466, on a path lined with chestnut trees that gave access to the old Braga castle, in the citadel, which was destroyed in 1906.

07 SANTA BÁRBARA GARDEN

It is a garden inspired by Italian Renaissance gardens, whose flowers change with the seasons. In the center there is a 17th-century fountain with a statue of Saint Barbara, hence the name of the garden.

The garden has as its backdrop the medieval walls of the old Archiepiscopal Palace, where you can admire the 14th-century Gothic wing and the remains of an arcade belonging to the Palace.

Santa Bárbara Garden

Praça da República and Arcada

08 PRAÇA DA REPÚBLICA AND ARCADA

This square is the center of Braga and the favorite meeting place of its inhabitants.

It has its origins in the Middle Ages, where goods supplying the city were traded, and for this reason, the arcade itself served as a porch to shelter animals and goods.

The current portico dates from 1715. In the center is the Church of Lapa and on the sides are iconic cafés, among which Café Vianna stands out, the oldest in the city (1858).

09 KEEP TOWER

The keep tower is the most important element preserved from the old castle built by King Dinis and restored by King Fernando, whose coat of arms is still preserved on the gate. With about 30 meters in height and an interior of three floors, it stands out in the historic center, where some remains of the old medieval wall can still be found today.

10 CASA DOS CRIVOS

It is one of the only examples of urban civil architecture in Braga, typical of the 17th and 18th centuries. The windows are covered with shutters, reflecting the atmosphere of strong religiosity and seclusion of the time.

These shuttered buildings were common in the city center. They almost always belonged to merchants' homes, as the ground floor had large doors that let in light to display the goods on show.

11 CHURCH OF SANTA CRUZ

The construction of the church began in 1625 and its first phase was not completed until 1653.

The façade features the thirteen instruments of the Passion of Christ, such as the crown of thorns, the nails, the sponge of gall, etc. Legend has it that whoever finds the two symmetrical roosters here will soon get married.

CURIOSITY

According to legend, whoever finds the roosters will soon get married or will marry in Braga. That is why, when we pass in front of the Church of Santa Cruz, we find many people looking at the façade in search of these roosters.

There is a version that says there are three roosters, because they are an allusion to Peter's denial (the episode in which Peter denied knowing Jesus three times). But it is very difficult to find the third one and some even say it does not exist, and some even mistake the goose for a rooster on one of the tower's weather vanes.

Church of Santa Cruz

12 CHURCH OF THE HOSPITAL OF S. MARCOS

In the 16th century, the sick and poor who had until then been housed in small charity hostels scattered throughout the city were brought together in a single hospital. The façade and the church are in neoclassical style, with Baroque reminiscences. The relics of the Apostle Saint John Mark are kept here.

13 HOUSE AND CHAPEL OF THE COIMBRAS

The complex was built in the 16th century and is the only example of Manueline architecture in Braga. In 1906, the house was demolished due to the opening of Largo S. João do Souto, and was later rebuilt on the opposite side of the street, preserving the Manueline elements.

14 SANCTUARY OF BOM JESUS DO MONTE

A World Heritage Site since 2019, Bom Jesus is the true symbol of the city of the Archbishops, where nature and art "go hand in hand".

The origins of the Bom Jesus spa date back to the early 14th century, when a cross was placed at the top of the Espinho hillside. This cross was soon sheltered by a chapel, which became a pilgrimage destination for the inhabitants of Braga and other faithful from the surrounding areas.

Little by little, the idea took shape to transform the hermitage of Santa Cruz do Monte into a grand monument in honor of the Passion of Christ.

In a gentle zigzag, there is a staircase with a chapel on each landing, alluding to one of the Stations of the Cross. The Stairway of the Five Senses continues, with its allegorical fountains, and ends with the Stairway of the Three Virtues and the Terreiro de Moisés, giving the architectural ensemble the appearance of a consecration chalice.

This is a magnificent place where the work of nature combines with the remarkable work of man. In one of the largest late Baroque interventions in the country, it is a must-see landmark of European Baroque.

CURIOSITY

BOM JESUS ELEVATOR

Inaugurated on March 25, 1882 and with no record of accidents, it is currently the oldest funicular in the world that uses the water counterweight system. The elevator goes up and down every half hour and takes between 2 and 3 minutes to complete the entire journey, depending on the number of passengers.

Some figures: 2 tracks, simultaneous ascent and descent, 274 meters of track, 116 m of slope, 42% incline, speed of 1.8 m/sec.

SECOND DAY

01 MUSEUM - PALÁCIO DOS BISCAINHOS

🕒 Estimated visit time: 30 min

It was the street that gave its name to this palace, in reference to the Biscayan craftsmen who settled there in the 16th century and worked on the urban development of Braga. Built in the 17th century, this house now houses a museum that shows the daily life of the northern nobility during the Baroque period.

The gardens are part of the "Rota dos Jardins Históricos do Baixo Minho" (Route of the Historic Gardens of Baixo Minho) and in them we can admire a Tulip Tree almost 300 years old, classified as of Public Interest.

museudosbiscainhos.gov.pt

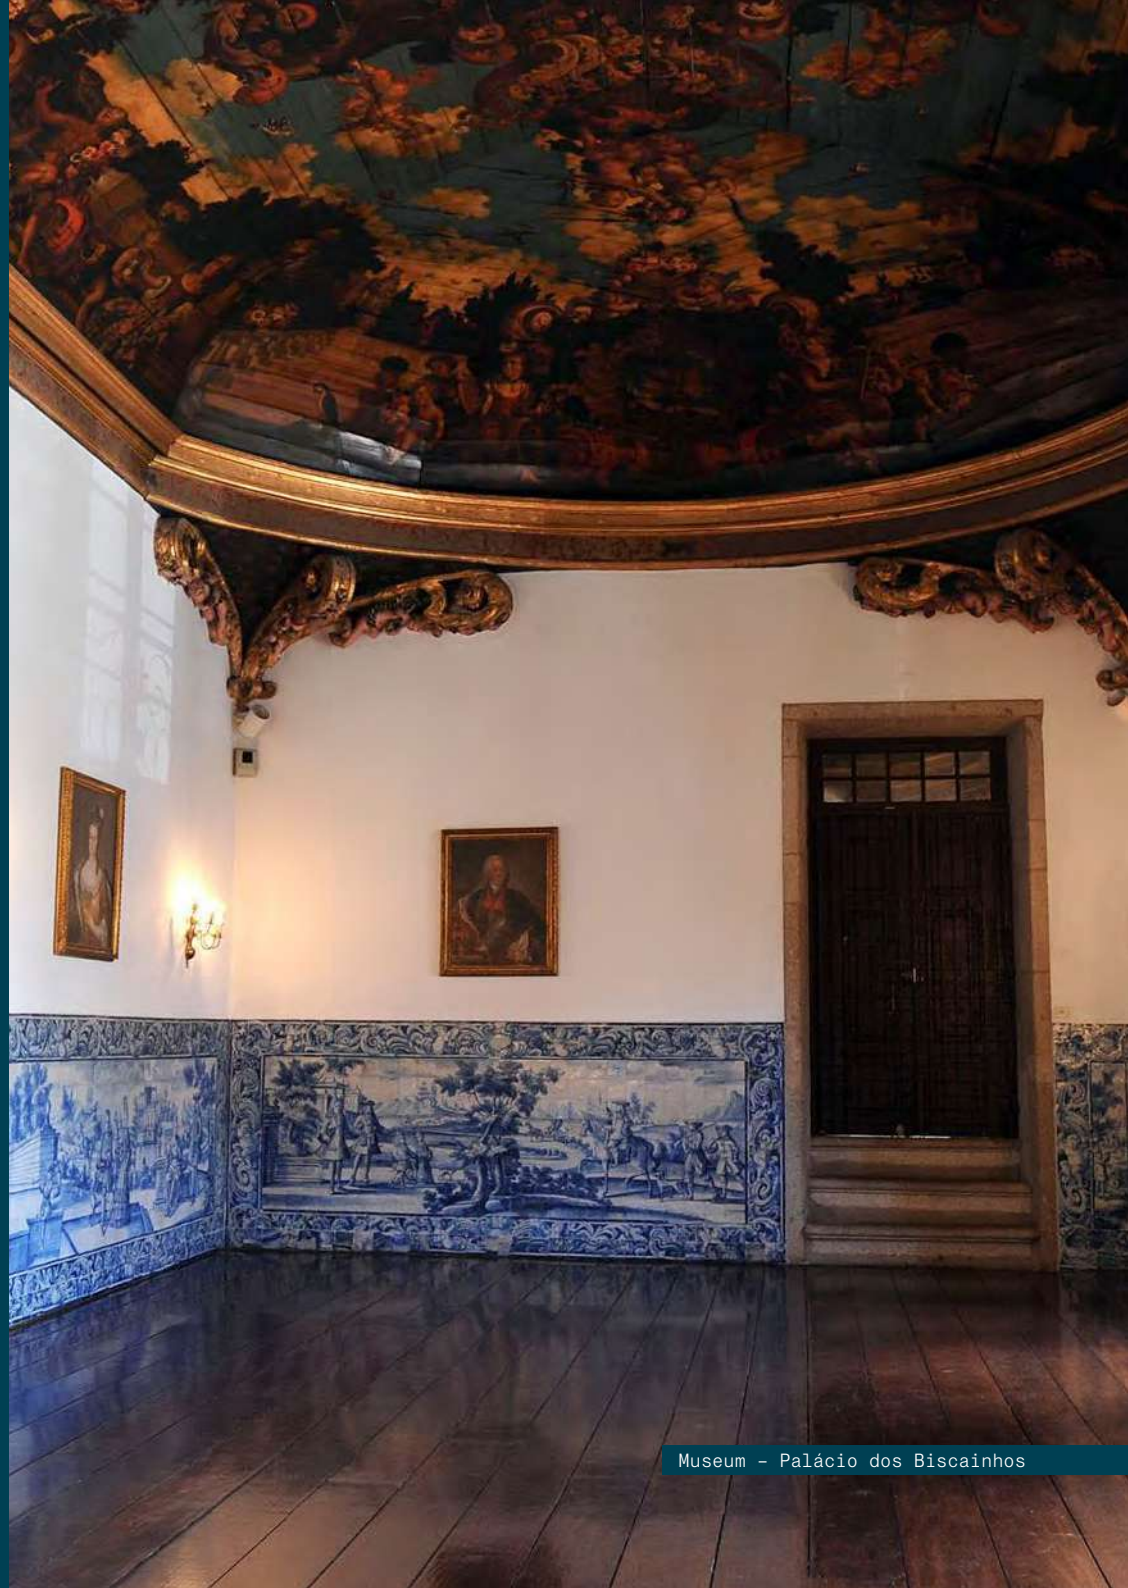

02 ROMAN BATHS OF ALTO DA CIVIDADE

🕒 Estimated visit time: 20 / 30 min

The thermal complex was built between the 1st and 3rd centuries AD and was abandoned in the 5th century AD. AD, at a time when the Western Roman Empire was collapsing.

It was a space for socializing and relaxation, where the Romans took care of their bodies through cold and hot rooms and the palestra, a space dedicated to physical exercise.

To the north of the thermal building, archaeological remains of a Roman theater from the same period have also been found.

04 PIO XII MUSEUM 05 TORRE DE SANTIAGO

🕒 Estimated visit time: 55 min

The museum's collection covers areas as varied as archaeology, jewelry, and liturgical props, among other collections. Visitors will also be able to admire the work of Henrique Medina, painter, landscape artist, and one of the great portraitists of the 20th century.

Finally, the Pio XII Museum offers a visit to the Medieval Tower known as "Nossa Senhora da Torre", which at its top gives access to a magnificent panoramic view of the city.

museupioxii.pt

CURIOSITY

In the pavement of Largo de São Paulo, where the Torre de Santiago is located, remains of an ancient Roman domus (family residence) were discovered in 1998. The outlines of these walls have been marked on the pavement of the square.

06 PALÁCIO DO RAIO

🕒 Estimated visit time: 40 min

The Palácio do Raio, or Casa do Mexicano as it is also known, owes its name to one of its owners: Miguel José Raio, Viscount of São Lázaro. Its construction dates from 1754-1755 and, having been designed by the Braga architect André Soares, this monument is situated between late Baroque and early Rococo. Since 2015, it has been open to the city as the Interpretation Center of the Memories of the Misericórdia of Braga.

07 FONTE DO ÍDOLO

🕒 Estimated visit time: 20/30 min

In the ancient capital of the Conventus Bracara Augustanus, a rock sanctuary was built at the beginning of the 1st century, which is today known as the Fonte dos Ídolos, associated with the worship of water. Its construction is probably due to Celico Fronto, a Roman citizen, who had it built for the enjoyment of the Bracara Augusta community.

Fonte do Ídolo

Sanctuary of Sameiro

08 SANCTUARY OF SAMEIRO

The second most visited Portuguese Marian sanctuary is located on the sacred mountain of Sameiro. Father Martinho, inspired by a deep devotion to Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception, was the builder of this sanctuary. He began by erecting a pedestal to place a statue of the Virgin. On August 10, 1877, the first chapel was consecrated and, in 1890, work began on the current temple.

In front of the Basilica rises an impressive and vast staircase, at the top of which stand two tall pillars, crowned by the Virgin Mary and the Sacred Heart of Jesus, from where you can enjoy a panoramic view of the entire city with one of the most spectacular sunsets.

santuariodosameiro.pt

CURIOSITY

At 572 meters, the hill of Sameiro is the highest point in the city, from where you can see the mountains of Gerês, Cabreira, Penha, and Franqueira and even, on the clearest days, the sea from Leixões to the mouth of the Lima.

On May 15, 1982, Pope John Paul II visited Sameiro and was received by a large crowd.

THIRD DAY

01 NOGUEIRA DA SILVA MUSEUM

🕒 Estimated visit time: 1h00

The Nogueira da Silva Museum owes its foundation to the legacy in favor of the University of Minho from Commander António Augusto Nogueira da Silva. The museum's collection includes Chinese porcelain; Flemish paintings from the 16th century; Portuguese paintings from the 17th and 18th centuries; some pieces of furniture, silver, ivory, tapestries, and tiles.

In the garden is the Maria Ondina Braga Space, consisting of the estate of the Braga writer, as well as a café.

www.mns.uminho.pt

02 CASA ROLÃO

Iconic building of 18th-century civil architecture, built between 1759 and 1765 to serve as the residence of a wealthy Braga merchant dedicated to silk manufacturing, it is now occupied by a bookstore with thousands of books, a café, and a garden.

03 MUSEUM OF THE IMAGE

For all photography lovers. This museum is located in a 19th-century building, which partially hides one of the towers of the old medieval wall, and brings together the image databases of the "Foto Aliança" and "Casa Pelicano" archives, from the early 20th century to the present day.

At the same time, it also hosts temporary exhibitions in the field of contemporary photography.

Nogueira da Silva Museum

Basilica of the Congregados

04 BASILICA OF THE CONGREGADOS

Its construction began in the 16th century, but it was not completed until the 20th century, with the west tower finished in 1964. Also in this convent complex is the chapel-oratory of Our Lady of Aparecida, unique in the country for its particular proportions and profusion of Baroque ornamentation.

05 MERCADO MUNICIPAL - A PRAÇA

The Praça is the renovated municipal market, where you can buy fresh and traditional products, as well as taste various delicacies and enjoy a meal in one of its restaurants.

praca.cm-braga.pt

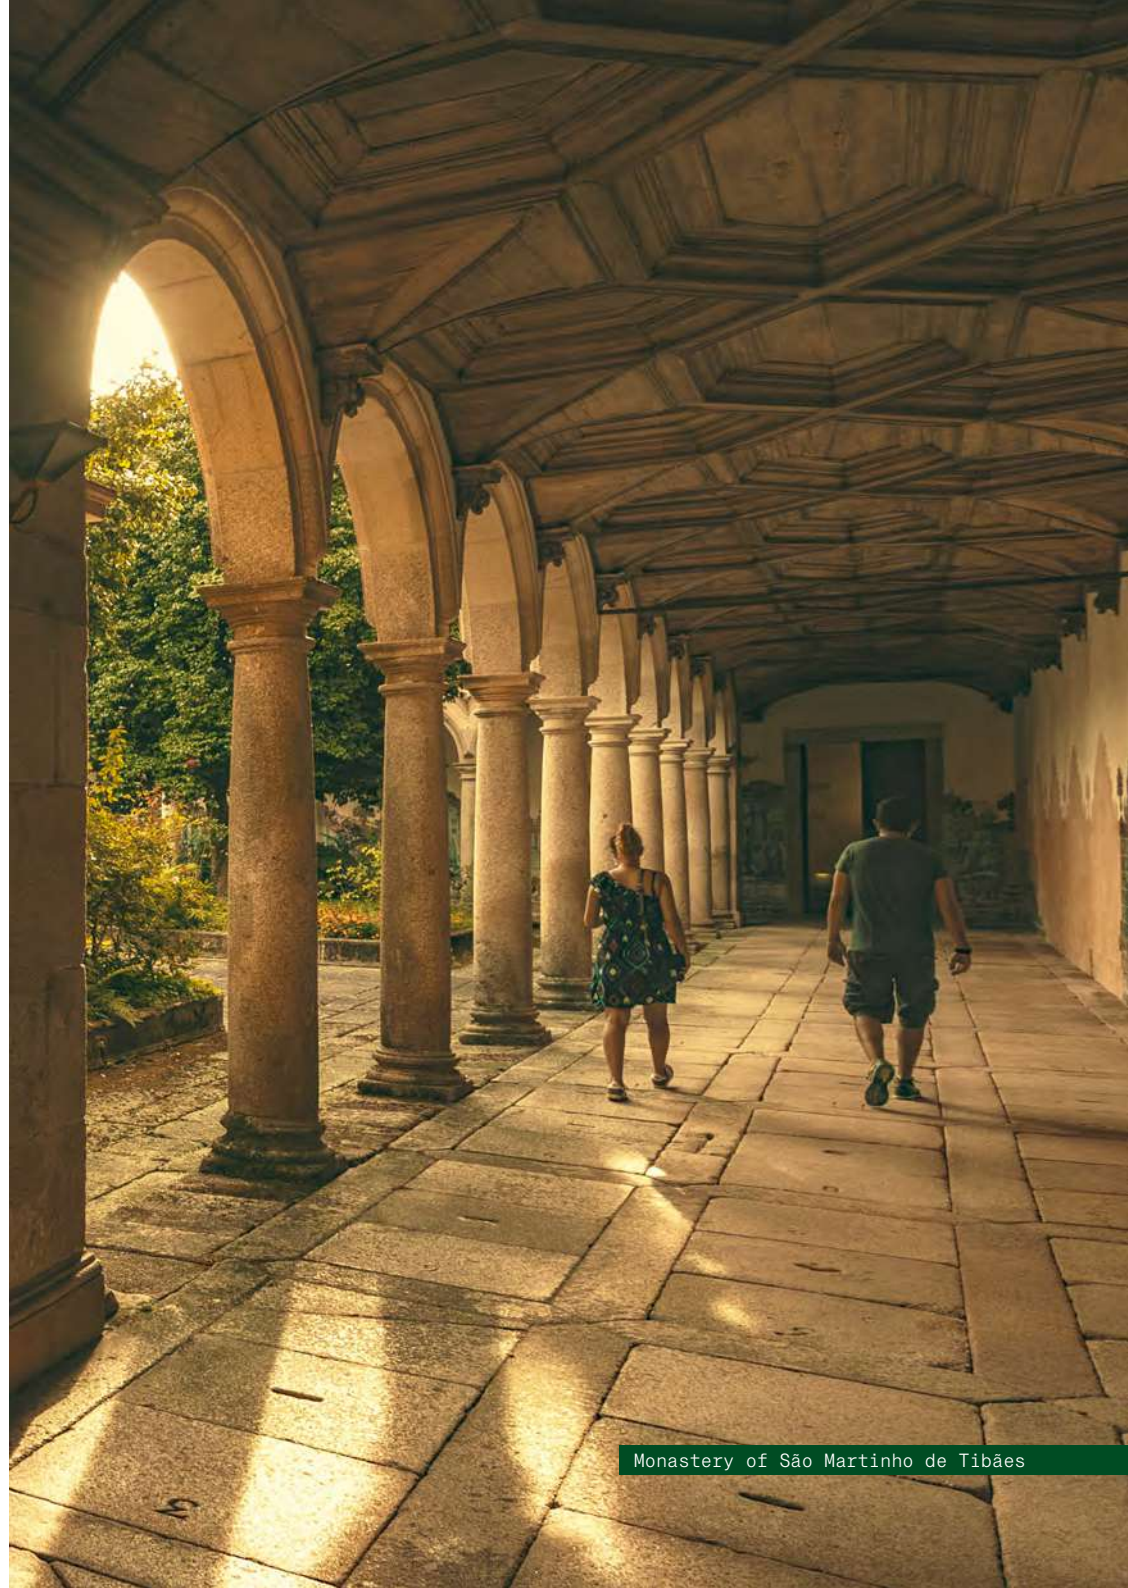

MONASTERY OF SÃO MARTINHO DE TIBÃES

 Estimated visit time: 2h00

The Monastery of São Martinho de Tibães was founded in the second half of the 11th century. Throughout the Middle Ages, it housed a vast heritage and, in the 16th century, was the Mother House of the Benedictine Order in Portugal and Brazil. The current building dates from the 17th and 18th centuries.

With the extinction of religious orders in Portugal in 1834, the building went through a period of decline and abandonment and was only recovered in 1986, when it was acquired by the Portuguese State. The church is one of the grandest temples in the country and one of the greatest landmarks of Baroque art. The monastery has been turned into a museum and can be visited, as can the Cerca, a space to enjoy nature.

BRAGA AT NIGHT

LARGO DO PAÇO

The buildings of the former Archbishop's Palace have now become the Rectorate of the University of Minho and the Public Library. In the center of this emblematic square is the Castle Fountain, which dates back to 1723.

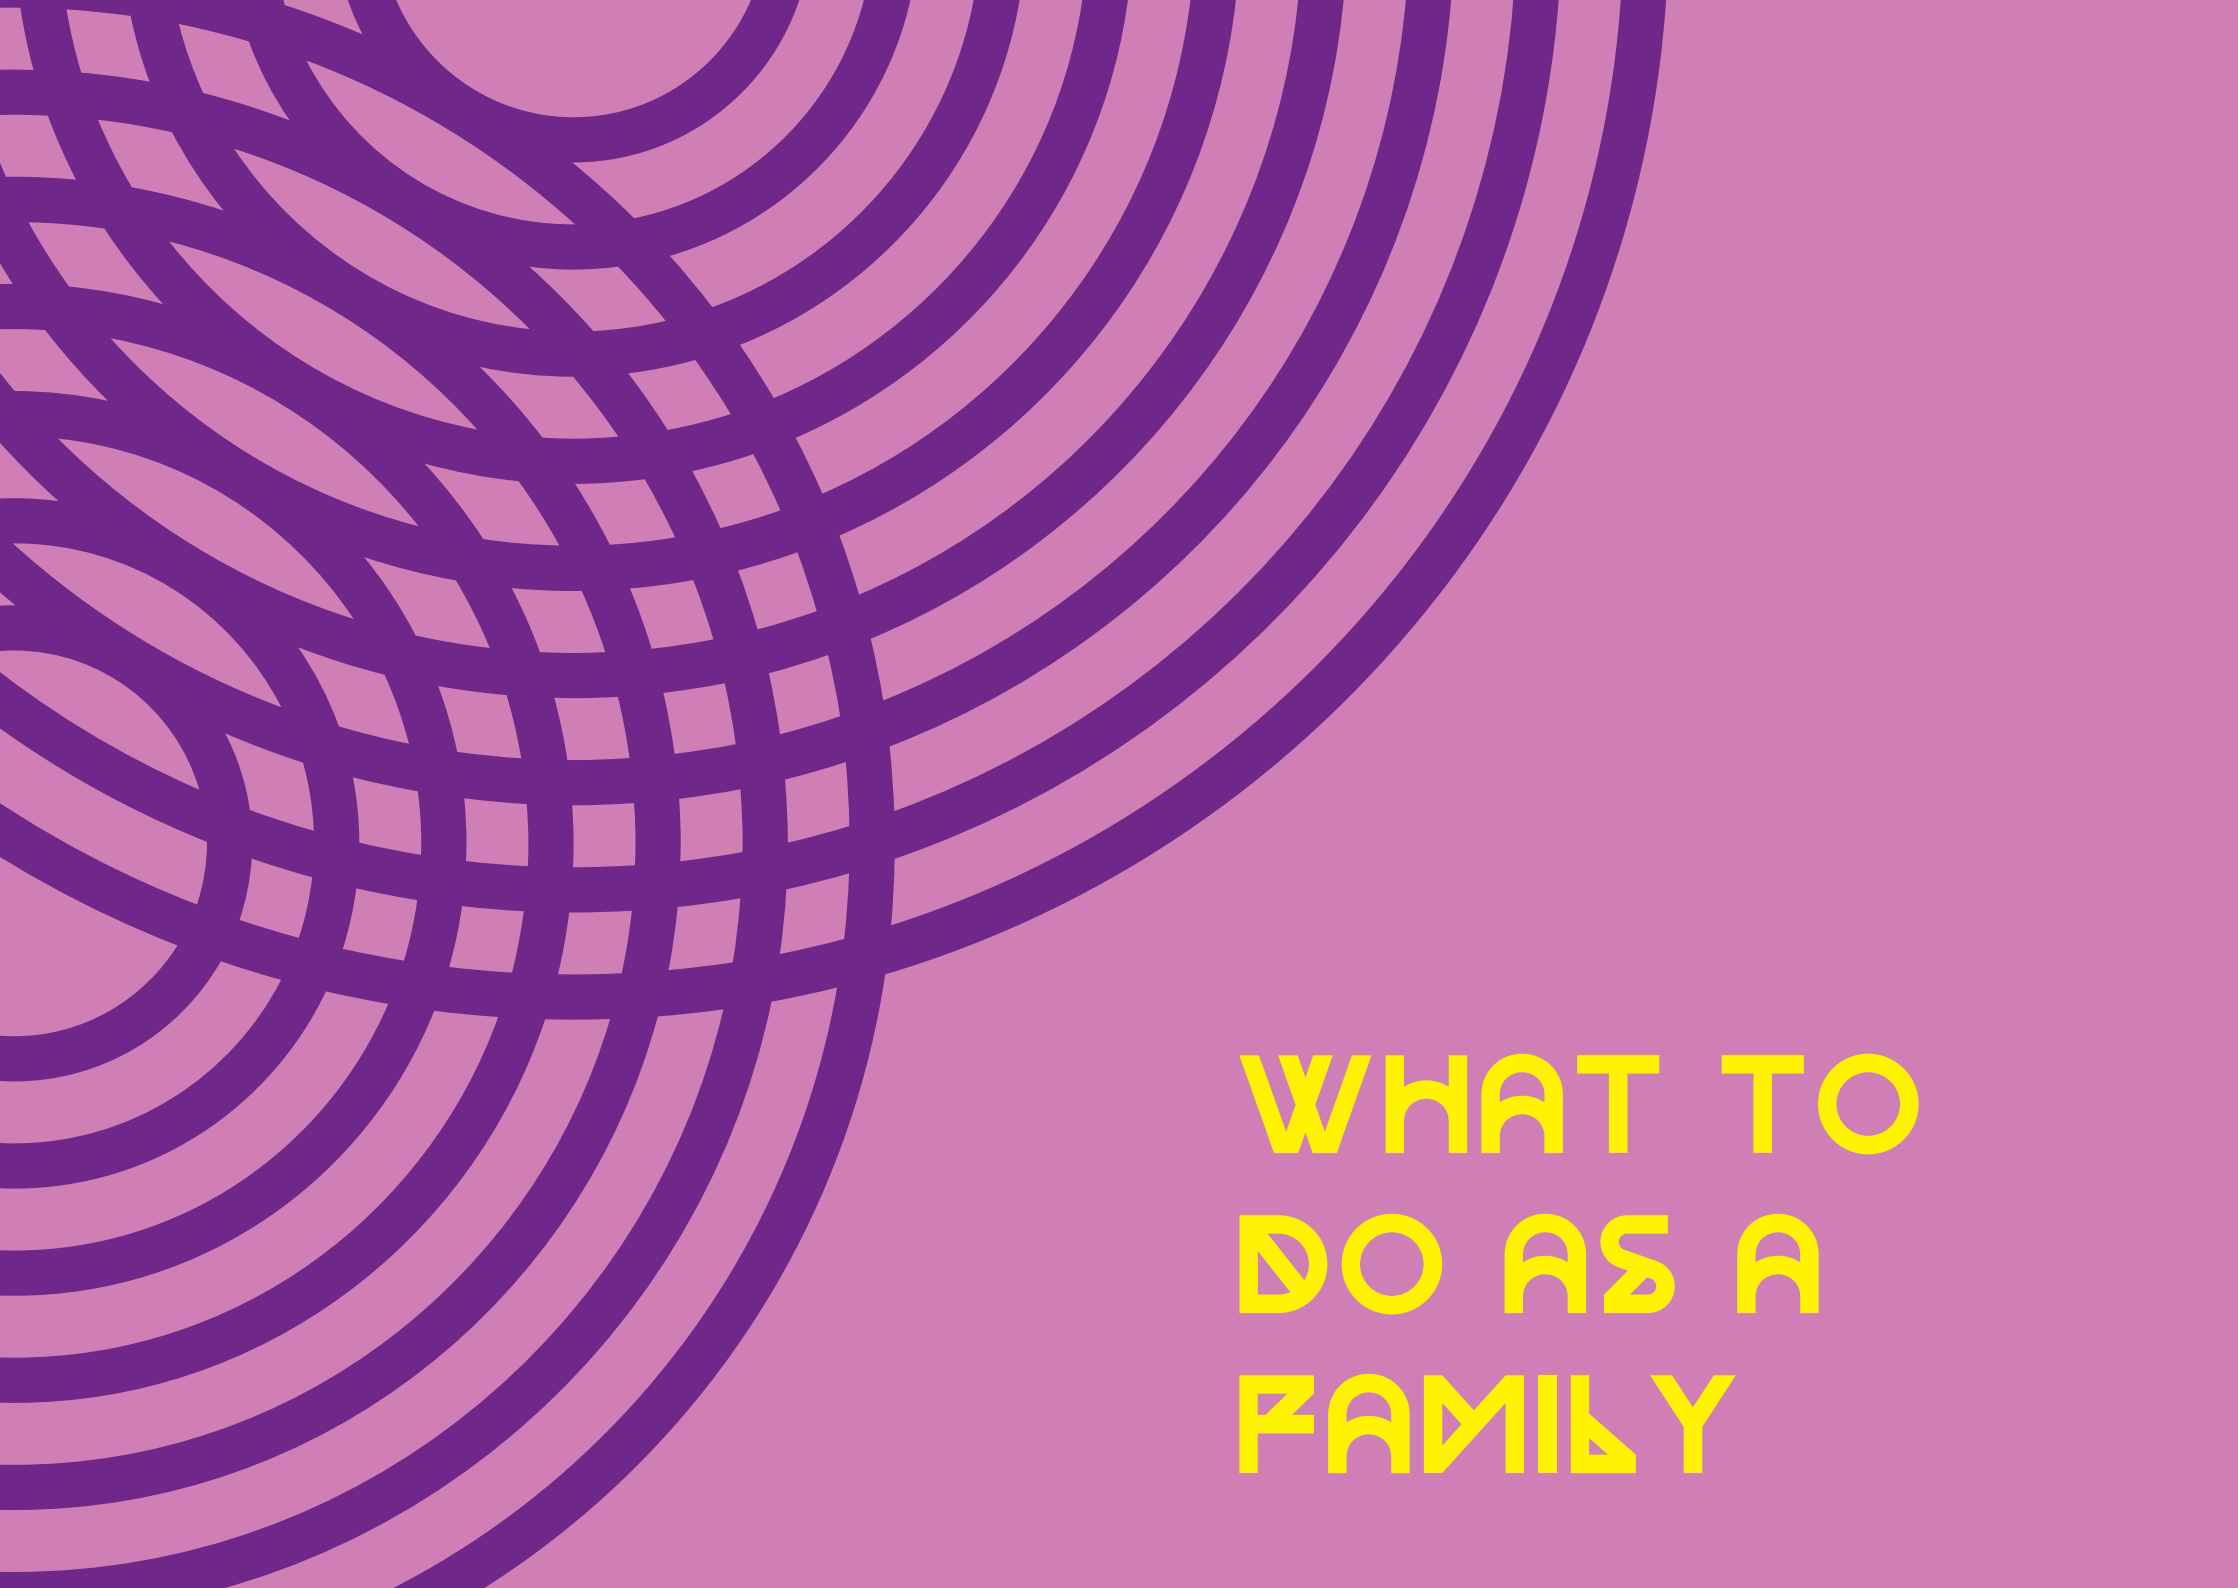

In front of Largo do Paço, you can see some characteristic examples of late 18th-century facades, as well as the narrowest house in Braga.

RUA DE S. JOÃO

On this emblematic street in the city of Braga, we can see historic shops, part of the apse of the Cathedral, and the image of Our Lady of the Milk in ançã stone, attributed to Nicolau de Chanterene. Our Lady of the Milk is a symbol of fertility and, like other images representing the Virgin Mary and Jesus, this statue also symbolizes motherhood. Interestingly, almost in the same place, the Romans worshipped another deity symbolizing fertility and motherhood, the Egyptian goddess Isis. On the outer wall of the Cathedral, a few meters from the image of Our Lady of the Milk, we can see a tombstone with an inscription dedicating the 2nd-century Roman temple to this goddess.

ROSSIO DA SÉ

Here stands the Monument to the Archbishops of Braga, in honor of the archbishops for the important role they played in the history of Braga from the founding of the country to the present day. The Rossio da Sé was inaugurated in 2002.

The background is a solid purple color. On the left side, there is a complex geometric pattern. It consists of several concentric circles that overlap with a grid of lines. The grid lines are also curved, following the circular pattern, creating a mesh-like effect. The lines are a darker shade of purple than the background.

GASTRONOMY

WHAT IS THE TYPICAL CUISINE OF BRAGA?

The city of Braga offers visitors a rich, succulent, and varied gastronomy, according to the tradition of several generations, with codfish as the main dish. The diversity of the natural landscape and the influences received from other peoples over the centuries are elements that explain the multiplicity of gastronomic specialties.

Influenced by the religiosity of the city, periods of abstinence were religiously observed, which led to the creation of multifaceted ways of cooking codfish and, among the many recipes, Bacalhau à Braga stands out.

The famous vinho verde of the region, white or red, is a good accompaniment for any dish you choose.

As for sweets, Braga's gastronomy is very original and refined, with Abade de Priscos pudding, pilgrimage sweets and dry cookies to accompany tea, as well as other specialties of ancient conventual and popular tradition.
